

Israel Journey Update: Frequently Asked Questions

Updated March 31, 2026

CONGREGATION
AHAVAT OLAM

Following our decision to postpone the Israel Journey, we've provided answers to common questions below.

What does “postponed” mean?

Our Israel Journey has been rescheduled for 2027. We are waiting for a more stable environment before confirming new dates and finalizing the itinerary.

Why was the trip postponed?

This decision was made thoughtfully and responsibly, with the safety and comfort of our community as the top priority. Given the current security situation in Israel and the surrounding region, we feel it is best to wait for a more stable time to travel together.

We want this to be a meaningful, joyful experience — and the right timing matters.

When will new dates be announced?

We will share updated dates and details as soon as the situation allows for confident planning. We appreciate your patience as we prioritize both safety and the overall experience.

Will the itinerary stay the same?

The overall spirit and structure of the journey will remain similar, though details may be adjusted once new dates are confirmed.

Will this still be a community trip?

Yes — this will remain a Congregation Ahavat Olam community journey. We look forward to traveling together when the time is right.

How are safety decisions being made?

We are closely monitoring the situation and consulting with a range of trusted sources, including our travel partners and those with firsthand knowledge of life on the ground in Israel. These insights help guide our decisions as we work to ensure that any future trip is planned with the highest standards of safety and care.

I already registered or placed a deposit — what happens now?

Our travel partner, Authentic Israel, will be in touch directly with next steps regarding your registration and deposit.

Deposits are being handled through Authentic Israel, and they will communicate all available options, including refunds or transferring your reservation to the rescheduled trip.

Will there be another info session?

Yes — once new dates are confirmed, we will host updated info sessions and share all details with the community.
